Description:	(346) 412-3485 - Respondent's Interview
Message:	Respondent stated that it was a normal repo and he went to pick up the vehicle which was parked in the apartment complex but it wasn't in the gated fence area. The vehicle was parked right outside of the gate of the complex. Respondent backed up to the vehicle, looked at the license plate and the vin number to verify that he was picking up the correct vehicle. He began to strap the vehicle down and once he began to strap down the steering wheel (the vehicle was left unlocked) one of the neighbors saw it and notified the owner. Respondent stated that the owner came out and Respondent began explaining to him what was going on with Title Max. Respondent stated that the victim wasn't happy about this and began to shout toward his apartment in his native language and Respondent started having a bad feeling. Respondent got into the vehicle and began driving onto the city street. Once both vehicles got on the city street, Respondent heard a loud boom as he began to approach the light at the intersection. Respondent stated that the victim came up on his left side and he heard a boom at which time the victim opened up the driver side door. Once the door began to open, the victim slid off of the floor rails and fell down. The victim was in flip flops. Respondent stated that he saw the victim starting to get up but then Respondent turned the corner and could no longer see the victim. Respondent stated that he called his office (he spoke with both Haslet's - Robin and her husband) and told them what had happened. Respondent was told by them that this happens all the time and just come in. Respondent was told to come to the yard and drop off of the vehicle. Respondent stated that while enroute to the VSF, he called and reported the incident to an ambulance. Respondent stated that after he dropped off the vehicle, he was called by the sergeant who stated that they were investigating a homicide. Respondent told them that he was about 45 to 50 minutes out because of traffic. Respondent stated that once he arrived back to the scene, he was placed in a police vehicle. Respondent told the police his story. He was told that he was being taken in because of old warrants from 4 years ago. Respondent stated that he was riding in the vehicle with a rider. Respondent stated that he is being charged with failure to render aid. The company did not pay Respondent his pay check. Respondent stated that he has never been in this kind of situation before and only did what he was instructed by his boss.
